

American National Standard

*for Information Technology –
Fibre Channel –
Framing and Signaling-2
(FC-FS-2)*

Developed by

Where IT all begins

American National Standard
for Information Technology –

Fibre Channel –
Framing and Signaling-2
(FC-FS-2)

Secretariat
Information Technology Industry Council

Approved February 1, 2007
American National Standards Institute, Inc.

Abstract

This standard describes the framing and signaling requirements for Fibre Channel links. The Physical Interface requirements are described in Fibre Channel-Physical Interfaces (FC-PI-x). The Link Services requirements are described in Fibre Channel-Link Services (FC-LS). This standard is recommended for new implementations but does not obsolete the existing Fibre Channel standards.