Foreword

ISO (the International Organization for Standardization) is a worldwide federation of national standards bodies (ISO member bodies). The work of developing International Standards is carried out through ISO technical committees. Every member body interested in a subject for which a technical committee has been authorized has the right to be represented on that committee. International organizations, governmental and non-governmental, in liaison with ISO, also take part in the work.

Draft International Standards adopted by the technical committees are circulated to the member bodies for approval before their acceptance as International Standards by the ISO Council.

International Standard ISO 6899 was developed by Technical Committee ISO/TC 39, Machine tools, and was circulated to the member bodies in November 1982.

It has been approved by the member bodies of the following countries :

Belgium	Hungary	South Africa, Rep. of
Brazil	Italy	Spain
China	Korea, Dem. P. Rep. of	Sweden
Egypt, Arab Rep. of	Korea, Rep. of	Switzerland
France	Mexico	United Kingdom
Germany, F.R.	Poland

The member bodies of the following countries expressed disapproval of the document on technical grounds :

India
