

Laboratory glassware

BeakersDIN
12 331

Laborgeräte aus Glas; Becher

Supersedes April 1971
edition and DIN 12 332,
April 1971 edition.

In keeping with current practice in standards published by the International Organization for Standardization (ISO), a comma has been used throughout as the decimal marker.

See Explanatory notes for connection with International Standard ISO 3819 : 1985 published by the International Organization for Standardization (ISO).

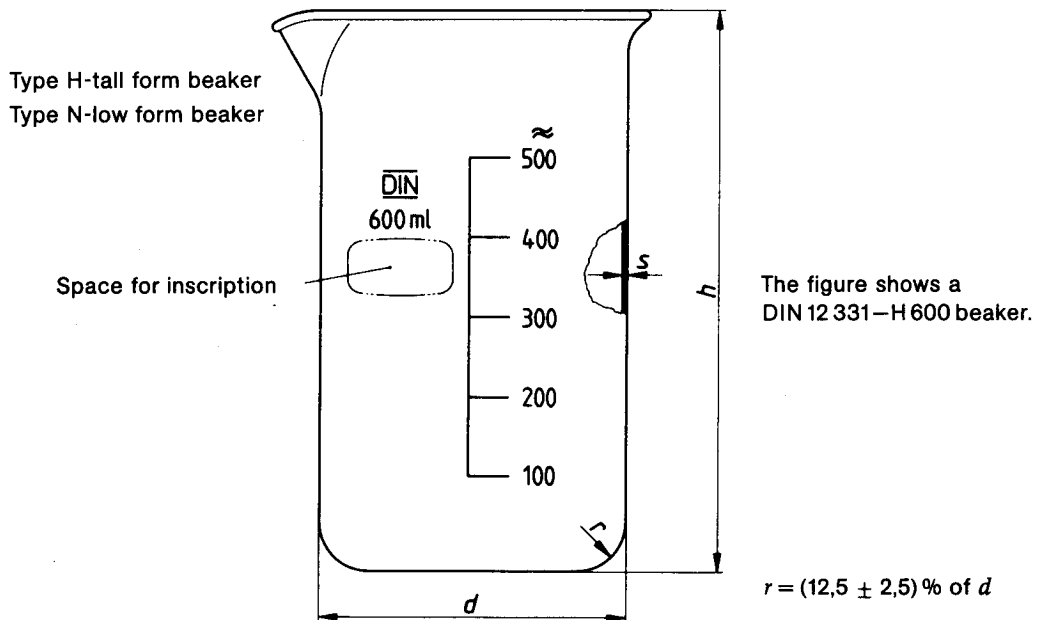

Dimensions in mm

1 Field of application

The specifications given in this standard apply to tall form and low form beakers intended for general laboratory use.

2 Dimensions and designation

Details not specified shall be selected as appropriate.

A tall form beaker (H) of 600 ml nominal capacity shall be designated:

Beaker DIN 12 331 – H 600

Continued on pages 2 and 3